ACCOMODATION OPPORTUNITIES

Deals

The Leszno's Airport authorities helped us to get discounted accommodation opportunities within a number of locations close to the airfield. We would really like to thank them for the support.

It is also possible to find more sophisticated and expensive accommodation sites, as Leszno is a very nice location. You may easily find these other options scouting, for example: booking.com, tripadvisor.com or expedia.com.

The available deals, presented below, will be managed through the IMAC Europe organization.

In order to take advantage of these opportunity, each IMAC Country Director will have to present a Team accommodation request to IMAC Europe, which will proceed to the reservation providing the relative booking receipt. We will not accept accommodation requests from individual pilots.

All prices exposed below include room and breakfast. They are "per room" prices, which means that if you book a room capable to accommodate four people and you will use it with four people, you will have to divide the exposed price by four in order to get the "per person" cost.
